NORTHERN TRIBUNE. SATURDAY, SEPTEMBER 28, 1878. Official Paper of the County and Village.

THE COUNTY FAIR. A Fine Display of the Products of Cheboygan County.

Yesterday was the first day of the first county fair ever held in Cheboygan county. The day was all that could be desired, the sun shown out bright and made it quite pleasant.

The display of fruit and vegetables was excellent. Several varieties of apples, both fall and winter, were on exhibition which surpassed many by their excellent quality and handsome appearance.

There were also pears, crab apples and several varieties of grapes on exhibition, all of the finest quality and demonstrated conclusively that Cheboygan county is adapted to raising fruit.

The specimens of corn in the ear were very fine and the exhibit was quite a surprise to many, who had been of the opinion that corn could not be matured in this section.

The vegetables on exhibit would be hard to excel in any section. The wheat, both spring and winter varieties, were of the best quality, and oats equal to the best raised anywhere.

The fancy articles displayed were both numerous and handsome, and added very much to the interest of the exhibition.

In the way of live stock the display, while not very large, is very fine, and has created considerable interest among the farmers and those interested in stock.

There were several special exhibits, not included in the premium list, which added very much to the display upon the grounds. Nelson & Bullen made a fine display of goods in their line, and there was a good display of canned fruits.

In making up the list of entries we hope it will be borne in mind that this being the first fair and everything as it were having to be learned by those in charge of matters in the Secretary's department, lacked that system which experience insures, and there may be some omissions but he believes them substantially correct. The attendance up to noon to-day had not been such as might have been expected nor such as the exhibit merited, and this has been the only thing lacking to complete the success of the first county fair held under the auspices of the Cheboygan county agricultural society.

The awards not being made until this afternoon, we will be unable to give them in this issue.

The following is a list of the entries made: CLASS ONE. Thos. Richardson—3 pigs, 1 ewe, 1 ewe lamb.

WHEREAS, We, the undersigned electors of Cheboygan county, believe that the industrial interests of the county require stability in the standard of value in the circulating medium of money of the county, and that gold and silver possess stability of value in a greater degree than any other commodity and are, therefore, the best standard of value, and that all paper intended as a circulating medium, whether issued by the national government or private banks should be founded upon and made convertible into gold and silver on demand.

That we denounce all species of repudiation of the nation's liabilities, in the preservation of the same, as cowardly and dishonest, and declare it as our principle that the creditors of the nation be honestly paid in honest money in accordance with their contract with the national government, as declared by act of Congress. We would invite the supporters of honest money and national honor irrespective of party to march shoulder to shoulder with us on the 28th inst. to the field of battle, and maintain the honor of the nation with the ballot that we so nobly preserved with the bullet. We therefore hereby call a county convention to be held in nomination of honest money candidates, for the county offices for the coming election, to be held at the town hall in the village of Cheboygan, on Friday, Oct. 11th, A. D. 1878, at 10 o'clock P. M.

The Democratic Representative Convention. The Democratic Representative Convention met, pursuant to call, at Mackinac, on the 24th inst.

The Convention was called to order by J. P. Sutton, Chairman of the District Committee.

On motion W. P. Preston was called to the chair, and Chas. S. Cushman elected secretary.

On motion a committee on credentials, consisting of one delegate from each county, was appointed as follows: William McArthur, Cheboygan; Oran B. Lyons, Chippewa; Jared Dingman, Mackinac.

The convention adjourned till 2 o'clock P. M.

The convention was called to order at 2 o'clock by the Chairman.

William McArthur Chairman of Committee on Credentials, reported the following entitled to seats in the convention: Chippewa county—Oran B. Lyons, Hugh McFarley, Chauncy Montgomery and Chas. S. Cushman; Cheboygan county—J. P. Sutton, William McArthur, Moses W. Horn, W. W. Strohm, T. T. Van Arsdale and George Wilson. Mackinac county—William P. Preston, Jared Dingman and Sigfried Hightstone.

The report was accepted and committee discharged.

The Chairman suggested that each delegation be seated together, which suggestion was complied with.

An informal ballot was then taken with the following result: Andrew Jackson, of Chippewa, received eight votes, and Wm. McArthur, of Cheboygan, five votes.

Mr. McArthur arose and thanked his friends for their votes and said that he was not a candidate for the office, and had repeatedly declined to have his name used in the convention.

Motion made and prevailed that a formal ballot be taken by counties.

The Secretary of the convention then called the roll of counties, the vote resulting as follows: Chippewa county being called Dr. Lyons arose and said Chippewa county casts her four votes for Andrew Jackson, which was received with applause. Mackinac county called when Mr. Hightstone arose and gave his three votes for Andrew Jackson, which created a round of applause. Cheboygan county was then called, when Mr. McArthur arose and said that Cheboygan casts her entire six votes for Andrew Jackson, of Chippewa county, creating a general round of enthusiasm and applause.

The Chairman then announced that, as Andrew Jackson having received the entire vote, he is declared the unanimous choice of the convention.

J. P. Sutton offered the following resolution which was unanimously adopted by the convention: Resolved, That this convention approves and endorses the platform adopted by the Democratic State convention recently held in Lansing.

Motion being made and carried that a Democratic District Committee consisting of one from each county be appointed. The Chairman appointed the following named persons such committee: J. P. Sutton, Cheboygan; G. L. Trempe, Chippewa; E. A. Franks, Mackinac; J. M. Pence, Schoolcraft.

REPRESENTATIVE CONVENTION. Henry W. Seymour, of Chippewa County, the Nominee—An Excellent Nomination.

In accordance with the published call the Republican convention for the purpose of nominating a candidate for the Legislature from the Cheboygan district met at the court house, at Mackinac, yesterday, the 27th, at noon.

The convention was called to order by Geo. W. Bell, Chairman of the Representative District Committee. The permanent organization of the convention was made by the election of Geo. W. Bell, of Cheboygan, as Chairman, and John D. Davis, of Mackinac, as Secretary.

On motion of W. S. Humphrey, the Chair appointed John R. Bailey, of Mackinac, and E. Nelson, of Cheboygan, as a Committee on Credentials.

The Chippewa county delegation having up to this time failed to arrive, and the convention feeling certain that they were on the way, on motion, adjourned until 4 o'clock.

At the appointed time the convention again convened, and the Committee on Credentials reported that the following delegates were present, and entitled to seats in the convention: Cheboygan county—Geo. W. Bell, Ephraim Nelson, W. S. Humphrey, Chas. Moore, Geo. P. Langdon. Chippewa county—Jos. H. Steere. Mackinac county—Jno. R. Bailey, Jno. D. Davis.

Mr. Chandler explained to the convention that Chippewa county had started a full delegation, but owing to an accident to the boat on which they took passage only one had arrived, and asked that the convention allow him to take the entire vote to which the county was entitled. A resolution to that effect was adopted.

On motion of Mr. Humphrey the convention then proceeded to an informal ballot for representative.

Mr. J. H. Steere, in behalf of Chippewa county, placed Henry W. Seymour in nomination, and in a few well chosen remarks, gave his reasons for thinking that Mr. Seymour was the best man who could be nominated.

The informal ballot resulted as follows: Henry W. Seymour, 5; Watts S. Humphrey, 5.

Mr. Humphrey thanked his friends for the honor of having his name brought before the convention, but stated that he must decline the nomination. He then moved that the convention proceed to second informal ballot.

This ballot resulted as follows: Henry W. Seymour, 7; Watts S. Humphrey, 3. On motion of Mr. Humphrey, the convention then proceeded to a formal ballot, with the following result: Henry W. Seymour, 9; Watts S. Humphrey, 1.

On motion of Mr. Humphrey, Mr. Seymour was declared the unanimous nominee of the convention.

The Chair then appointed Watts S. Humphrey of Cheboygan, John R. Bailey of Mackinac, and Jos. H. Steere of Chippewa, Representative District Committee to serve for the ensuing two years.

The convention then on motion adjourned sine die.

THE NOMINEE. Henry W. Seymour is a man of universal popularity, and will undoubtedly run largely ahead of his ticket in Chippewa county and other parts of the district where he is, or may become personally known. He is a native of the state of New York, a graduate of Williams college, and a member of the New York bar, has already had considerable experience with public men and public affairs in that state, and is therefore qualified in every respect to take a leading position in the next House of Representatives should he, as he probably will, be elected.

Nicely Sold. The Detroit Evening News relates the following as one of the incidents of fair week in that city: "A young blood from Iowa came into Detroit to visit the fair last week, and, thinking no small feat of himself, hired a horse and buggy and took a drive on Detroit's Belgrave—Fort street west—to air his attractions. As he passed along he saw a pretty and aristocratic looking girl with blonde hair sitting at the window, and audaciously saluted her. To his surprise and delight she flitted back. He drove up the street overpowered with pleasure, and naturally concluded to try his luck again. Walking his horse slowly he returned in front of the house and entered into a second flirtation by signs of the most desperate description. At nightfall he returned and learned the name of the family, either by the door-plate or by judicious inquiries, and next morning sent a letter to Miss—, inviting her to ride with him next day. He received an answer promptly accepting the invitation. Late on Thursday afternoon he called around at the appointed time. The young lady was sitting at the window, and made a sign that she would come down immediately. A few minutes afterward the young man was transported at seeing a female form, closely wrapped and veiled, emerge from the stately doorway. He advanced to meet her, helped her into the vehicle, and the two whirled away down town. All his efforts to induce her into conversation failed, and to his voluble talk she only answered in monosyllables. She also refused to remove her veil, and, in order to get a chance to look at his companion, the young man asked her to go into an ice cream saloon, to which she assented in a low voice. He handed her out of the buggy and escorted her into the saloon, sat down beside her, and awaited with impatience the advent of the freeing mixture, which would make her lift her veil. It came at last, she threw up her veil. Horror! She was as black as the ten of spades! He rose, she laughed. Then he ran out and drove away, with the hot blood coloring even the tips of his ears, and the colored cook went home to laugh and relate the story to her sprightly "young miss." It was a very old joke, but it was played again on Thursday last to perfection.

STATE NEWS. G. G. Noble, of Cheshire, Allegan county, was bitten by a ram Sunday, and had an arm broken.

Emmet county has sent her first contribution to the state prison, Jas. Michael, for horse-stealing, two years.

A wealthy Philadelphian has authorized his agent to purchase some 1,200 acres of land in Keweenaw county lying a few miles west of Copper Harbor, and embracing that beautiful sheet of water known as "Mosquito Lake." The intention is to improve the property and make it a place for summer residence.

In Genesee county a serious disease has broken out among the horses and in some parts of the county is ravaging into a pestilence. The disease is a very serious one, and is known as "strangles." The afflicted animal is taken with a severe chill, which leaves it in a weak condition. Severe external inflammation of the head follows, which soon reduces the horse to such a condition that it is unable to work for a long time.

A state prison convict named Higgins, an old prison bird, to whom the inside of a prison had long been familiar, attempted to escape on Friday night and lost his life in the attempt. A dray stood inside the walls, the guy ropes extended outside. Higgins climbed the derrick, intending to go down the guy hand over hand, but his nerve or his grit failed and he fell, receiving injuries from which he soon died.
